THE CHURCH OF ST. PETER & PAUL, EYE, SUFFOLK

S.S. Peter and Paul's, Eye, Suffolk

By GEORGE W. PIPE

A FINE church with an even finer tower, SS. Peter and Paul's, Eye, belongs to that small but handsome group which includes Bungay, Laxfield, Redenhall (Norfolk), Dedham (Essex) and to a lesser degree Woodbridge. Their feature—all 100 feet high or more with those flint-panelled, "rounded" buttresses, and in the case of Eye richly embellished on the west front.

In this ancient municipal borough, successively recorded as Aye, Eia, Haye, Ewya and Eya, we have evidence of the wealth and influence of John de la Pole, Duke of Suffolk. He and his wife were undoubtedly the chief contributors to the cost of the tower, built about 1465, and carved on the southern battlements we find the arms of this nobleman. Here we have the East Anglian Perpendicular style reaching its zenith, and happily inside the tower we need not be disappointed either.

First, a belfry of great character. Heavily beamed, with the walls covered with historic peal boards and famous names. Eye, of course, was the home of George Day and Sons, the well-known bellhangers of the 19th century, a business founded on a wheelwrights and joiners' in the late 1700s. It was no doubt for this reason that a great deal of ringing took place here just before the turn of the century; in fact, of the 106 peals recorded at Eye to date, 62 were rung in the years 1882-1914. And what a gallery of names! Washbrook, Robinson, Pitstow, Hounslow, Coleridge, Pye, Souter, Motts and many others. What wouldn't I give to hear that band ring Double Norwich on the bells!

Neither did the Days restrict themselves to the workshops, as a verse in the belfry testifies.

"The tenor was rung Ah! just the way
By our faithful friend, young Mr. Day
Who said 'my friends it is my aim
This peal to help you all to gain'."

Canon Raven, the bell historian, knew this tower well too, and another peal board records his passing in 1906.

The bells themselves are an old-fashioned mellow eight (tenor 19½ cwt. in D. They are the third or fourth eight in Suffolk in origin, a typically "mixed bag" with a fine 15th century Brayer seventh. Through the efforts and inspiration of Claude Rush, who almost single-handed raised £1,700, the ring was restored in 1962 and the tenor recast by Mears and Stainbank. She used to weigh the traditional "twenty-four hundred"! and in more enlightened times came down to 22 and 21 cwt. Alas and alack, she tipped the Whitechapel scales at 18 cwt. 100 lb., happily discovered long after Jimmy Washbrook rang her!

The town, the church and the belfry are all worth a visit in this very delightful part of Suffolk.

COMMENT

ARE UMPIRES NECESSARY? — By Anon

THERE are peal compositions available for some methods to which the criterion may be applied that certain mistakes in the calling will not become apparent. In Stedman Triples one such composition is given below; there are bobs and either one or three singles in blocks of six in 58 out of the total 60 courses when the observation bell, the 7th, is "in the slow," the same course-end will be obtained wherever the singles are called but the course may be false. The composition, which is more interesting to ring than it appears, was successfully rung at Edgbaston, Birmingham, on July 10th, when an umpire checked that all the calls were called and made in the correct sixes. In the previous three attempts, rung during the summer of 1967, there was no umpire but the conductor became conscious that he might fail to recognise an error of the type described.

In some popular compositions of Spliced Surprise Major, notably those using Cambridge type methods only or on the three-lead course plan using either Rutland or London in the 1st and 3rd leads, it is possible for the conductor, of even the greatest experience and highest integrity, to call the wrong method, never to realise his mistake because the same lead-head is produced whichever method is rung, and complete a false peal. One eminent composer/conductor has remarked that he is loath to attempt these compositions for this reason. At next year's meeting the Council, when debating the current review of rules, may consider that where practicable there should be umpires for normal length peals on tower bells when compositions of this nature are being attempted. There is a precedent for this in that the Central Council has for many years recommended that there should be umpires for all handbell peals.

One of the celebrated early peals of Stedman Triples, the second ever rung, was that of Henry Cooper, first rung on June 5th, 1819, at Shifnal, Shropshire, conducted by Cooper himself from the manuscript. It contained 582 calls including two special "turning singles" at the part-ends. The composition is printed in the early edition of Snowdon's "Stedman" (page 120) but as printed it is false, probably through an error in copying from an indistinct manuscript. However, the course-ends give a true peal in two equal parts with 580 ordinary bobs and singles, with the 7th undisturbed throughout. The late Mr. Joseph W. Parker of Sunderland corrected and rearranged the peal and this was first rung at Gateshead on November 5th, 1932, conducted by William H. Barber from the 4th. Two members of that band are still alive—John Anderson and William J. Davidson, both of Newcastle upon Tyne.

LADIES GUILD A.G.M.

FURTHER THOUGHTS ON DISBANDING DISTRICTS

THE sun shone on the ladies for their annual meeting at St. Albans on July 6th, when some 46 members (with about 30 supporters of the other sex) gathered at St. Peter's. They came from South Wales and Kent, Lancashire and Devon, Leicestershire, Lincolnshire and the Central District around London, and it was a great pleasure to renew old friendships, meet some who were pioneers in the movement 40 to 50 years ago, and make new friends among the keen and able younger ringers.

The service at 11.30 was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. C. J. H. W. A. Bradley, who, after welcoming us and complimenting us on our singing, gave us an address spiced with humour and vivid illustrations. Among the great gifts and possibilities with which we were born, he said, one we had developed was that we had learned to ring; we had learned to work in a team, and we played an important part in the work of the Church, which was a team of teams. Women have to be tactful and understanding, and often can bring into a tower something of those qualities. But it must not stop there. "If you have learned something from your tower—self-control, discipline, tact—if you leave it upstairs it will be a great loss to the Church, the nation, the world. We have seeds which can bear much fruit—it will be a pity if we keep them in the packet!"

A very well arranged buffet lunch was then served in St. Peter's Hall by Mrs. Darvill and the local ladies, after which the gentlemen went to ring at St. Peter's and the Abbey, while the ladies held their 48th annual general meeting.

The president, Mrs. Jacqueline King, took the chair, supported by Miss Doris Colgate (general secretary) and Miss Joan Beresford (treasurer). The minutes of the last meeting, held at Lincoln, were read and confirmed. It was agreed that the very full account of this meeting, printed in "The Ringing World," should be stuck in the minute book as a record. Mr. T. W. White's presence at that meeting was recalled with pleasure. Two new members were elected—Miss Carol Parkhurst, of St. Stephen's, who had given some of the visitors a warm welcome that morning and rang with them, and Miss Linda Saunders, of North Mymms.

THE NEW PRESIDENT

Only one nomination had been received for the office of president, and Mrs. E. Parfrey, chairman of the Western District, was declared elected. As she took the chair from Mrs. King she voiced the thanks of all to her for her good work for the Guild during her three years of office. Again only one nomination was received for the office of secretary. It was unthinkable that we should have anyone but Miss Doris Colgate, and there was general satisfaction that she was willing to continue in office; and the same was the case with Miss Joan Beresford and Mrs. Slade, the treasurer and auditor. Four nominations had been received for the three Central Council representatives, but Mrs. Parfrey withdrew her name, saying she felt we could not be better represented than by Miss Beresford, Miss Colgate and Mrs. Staniforth.

The hon. treasurer then gave her report, which she regretted had not yet been audited or circulated owing to late receipts from two Districts. To date, expenses amounted to £47 5s. 10d., income £48 8s. 9d., an excess of income over expenditure of £1 2s. 11d. Fifty more badges had been purchased and 28 sold during the year, showing a small profit; on the other hand eight had been lost. In the balance sheet £188 1s. 10d. was brought forward at the beginning of 1967 and £187 14s. 9d. carried forward at December 31st.

The hon. treasurer, continuing, gave a warning that the number of life members

THE NEW PRESIDENT

Mrs. Bette Parfrey, of 18, Meadlands, Corston, Bath, is the new president of the Ladies' Guild. She was born in Bath in 1930 and educated at the City of Bath Girls' School. At the age of 15 she learned to ring and joined the Ladies' Guild in 1948. She succeeded Miss N. G. Williams as secretary of the Western District and later served as vice-president for two terms of office—a total of nine years.

Mrs. Parfrey married Harold in 1951 and spent a very happy 17 years until his death last March. There are three children—June (15), Judith (11) and David (8). The girls ring and David can handle a bell. Recently Mrs. Parfrey succeeded her husband as tower master at Corston. So far she has rung 25 peals, most of them being for the Bath and Wells Association.

Throughout her life Mrs. Parfrey has been closely connected with the Church, having served for 21 years in the choir, group leader of the Young Wives for eight years and a member of the P.C.C. She is also interested in church floral arrangement.

"I feel most sincerely that ringers are part of the whole body of the Church and are privileged to be able to bear witness to their faith in the tower," she writes to "The Ringing World."

was gradually dropping and this would have an adverse effect on finance. Miss Beresford moved the adoption of the report and balance sheet. She further proposed that the date of March 31st should be set for District subscriptions to be paid in to the treasurer, and after a little discussion this was passed.

MIDLAND DISTRICT PROPOSAL

Mrs. Jill Staniforth then put forward a proposition by the Midland District: "That all Districts of the Ladies' Guild be disbanded as from December 31st of this year. One meeting to be held on the first Saturday of July in the form of a week-end ringing festival. In areas where ladies wish to meet at other times of the year, this may take place in the form of practice meetings." As a corollary, an alteration was proposed to Rule 4, putting the governing of the Guild into the hands of a reconstituted committee. This had only been circulated shortly before the meeting, and not all Districts had had the opportunity of discussing it with their members, so that some only heard of it for the first time at this meeting. Each District representative was asked to give her area's views.

The Western District, while they had great sympathy with the Midland, did not agree entirely and would prefer to hold their meetings; if there are elected officers in each District there is more chance of holding the members together. Lincolnshire District: Mrs. Richardson thought they would lose most of the members, especially from the rural districts, if there were no District meetings. Kent would also prefer to keep on as they are. South Wales had not had a meeting to discuss it, but the committee members had all written to Mrs. King strongly against it, and asked for at least a year's notice to think about it. Mrs. Hooton, for the Central District, sympathised with the Midland, having difficulty in keeping meetings going with a large area. Devon said succinctly: If the Districts go, then interest will go and the Guild will go. Mrs. Percy reported Sussex had a meeting the previous week; opinion was divided. They pointed out that it was going to be difficult and expensive for them to attend the annual general meeting in the north-west next year, and if this motion were carried a whole year or perhaps two would pass without their being able to attend a single Ladies' Guild meeting. The North-Western District proposed that 12 months should be allowed for the members to think about the suggestion. Mrs. Parfrey summed up by saying there was great divergence between the Districts: some were flourishing, other secretaries found it very hard going.

The amendment was proposed and seconded: "That the matter should be deferred until the annual general meeting next year for further thought," and this was carried by a large majority. Secretaries were asked to think really seriously about this and seek the opinion of their members, and send the reactions to Miss Colgate.

Next year's annual general meeting should be held in the N.W. District. After some discussion as to what form it should take it was decided to revert to the previous plan, with the committee meeting at 1 o'clock, towers open until the service at 3, tea at 4, followed by the meeting, and then towers open until about 8 p.m.—no dinner, but more time for ringing. Mrs. Andrew said she hoped to arrange this at Manchester. The 1970 annual meeting should be held in Kent, Sussex or the southern area.

Miss Colgate had displayed on the table a fine replica of the badge in the form of a wooden plaque, formerly belonging to the West Midland District, given by Miss Stella Hughes, who is now in South Africa. This was much admired. She also had there for anyone to read an excellent article written by Mrs. King in "The Western Mail." Votes of thanks were passed to the Vicar for allowing the Guild the use of his church, the bells and all the amenities, and for his sermon, which would be long remembered, to Miss Ware for the arrangements for the dinner, to Mrs. Darvill for the lunch, and to the incumbents and steeplekeepers.

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

The summer meeting of the Bridgnorth Branch was held at Cleobury Mortimer, where the church is well known for its "twisted" spire, on July 6th. Beneath this spire the tower contains a pleasing ring of six bells, which was put to good use by the small number of ringers present. Tea was kindly provided by Mr. and Mrs. A. Osbaldiston, of the local band, and Mrs. Oldroyd, wife of the Vicar, the Rev. C. M. Oldroyd, who took the service. Fine weather added to the enjoyment of the meeting at this unspoilt country town.

BELL FALLS AT EAST BERGHOLT, SUFFOLK

By CLAUDE RUSH

ACCORDING to a report in "The East Anglian Daily Times" of July 19th, the second bell of the ring of five at the Church of St. Mary the Virgin, East Bergholt, Suffolk, fell from its bearings to the bottom of the pit during ringing practice on July 18th. It seems that Paul Scott, of Manor Cottage, East Bergholt, was ringing the bell at the time—they had been ringing for about five minutes.

The news item includes a photograph showing the bell lying on its side in the pit, with Paul Scott, Bill Brooks, Ken Fayers (all ringers), and Walter Crisp (conductor) standing by. Walter said that he had had 38 years' experience of East Bergholt bells and had not known such an incident before. All ringing has been stopped for the time being. There were about 100 visitors at the church when the bell fell—it is a church and district that attracts many visitors, as it is in "Constable's Country."

Anyone who has no knowledge of the ring of bells there might think that there is no particular interest in this incident, but East Bergholt's bells are unique—nowhere else are bells hung for full-circle ringing like these are.

LEGENDS OVER TOWER

One might say that the church has no tower. This would be incorrect. White's "Directory of Suffolk" of 1883 gives the height of the tower as 14 feet, the sums of money given towards the rebuilding of it being insufficient for its completion. Legend has it that several attempts to build it were frustrated by direct influence of the Evil Spirit so the work was given up in despair. Another tradition is that Cardinal Wolsey, who was born at nearby Ipswich, took much interest in the building of the church and that his fall from power put a stop to the work. He had promised to build a tower for this church and it was begun in 1525. Wolsey died in 1530 and nothing has been added to the tower work since.

So a wooden cage to take the bells was erected in the churchyard about this time, and this is the cage in which the bell fell a few days ago. There had been a cage—perhaps the same cage—in another part of the churchyard in the 15th century. It has been said that the Squire was annoyed by the sound of bells, so the cage was put where it is now so that the church itself came between the Squire and the bells, and thus the sound, for him, was reduced.

The bells form a heavy ring of five. The old treble was by Richardus Bowler and dated 1601; it weighed about 8 cwt. But the present treble is a Queen Victoria jubilee bell, 1887, by Warners, and hung by George Day and Son, Eye, Suffolk: it weighs about 12 cwt.

The second, Gabriel, was cast about 1450, is of about 12½ cwt. and is the bell which fell.

The third is by Richardus Bowler (Colchester) 1601; reputed weight nearly 15 cwt.

The fourth, by Christopher Hodgson in 1688, is about 19 cwt.

The tenor, by John Stephens (Norwich) was cast in 1727 and its reputed weight is 25 cwt.

It would be wrong to say there are no ropes to these bells—ropes are used for chiming. But full-circle ringing is done without ropes or wheels, and the bells present a curious sight when set "up" with only themselves showing above the frame.

RINGING TECHNIQUE

To raise them the ringers stand on a platform—a shelf—beside the bells and first push the headstocks this way, then that, until the bells swing high enough for the ringers to push the bells themselves, their hands first on or about the soundbows and then, as the bells get higher still, on the lips themselves, where real control then begins, to the extent of setting the bells in the proper "up" position.

Ringling is normally by call—one might say "nod"—changes (remember the noise!), but on St. George's Day, 1821, 120 changes of singles were rung by Samuel Orris sen. (conductor) 1, William Bird 2, T. Stollery 3, Thomas Orris 4, Samuel Orris jun. tenor.

Recently an appeal has been made for funds for the repair and maintenance of the bell-cage, but the Vicar, the Rev. H. R. Chisnell, will now be glad of additional financial help because of the recent incident and consequent extra expense. Quite a large sum is needed.

COVENTRY GUILD'S FIRST STRIKING CONTEST

As a result of the decision at the Guild annual general meeting held on April 20th last, a striking competition took place at St. Nicholas' Church, Warwick, on July 6th. Eight teams entered, being four from the Coventry Branch and four from the Warwick Branch. As this was the first meeting of its kind organised by the Guild, it was very much of an experiment. The time table was slightly disorganised by the late arrival of some of the bands. The first band to ring set a good standard with Cambridge Minor, followed by two bands ringing Bob Minor, three Grandsire Doubles, and call changes and one rounds.

The judges were Mr. Alan Bridges, of Derby, and Miss S. Ruddledden, of Culworth: the third judge was indisposed and unable to attend. Bands were given choice of method. The principle applied was one minute penalty free, and nine minutes under penalty. This allowed 216 of Minor and 210 of Grandsire, which filled the time allotted very well.

Kenilworth proved to be the winners with 20 faults, Allesley were second with 27 and Chilvers Coton third with 28. The standard of striking was very good and those taking part seemed to have a lot of pleasure and enlightenment in judging the others' bands' striking.

Undoubtedly the organising committee learned quite a lot from this effort. First, that the date was a bad choice, being so near the holidays and many bands were depleted for that reason and unable to compete. Those who had not taken part had an opportunity to ring before the service. St. Nicholas' band provided the tea, and after the presentation of certificates by the president to the winning bands further ringing took place at St. Mary's until 8 p.m.

SHROPSHIRE ASSOCIATION INCREASES SUBSCRIPTIONS

The Shropshire Association held its annual general meeting at Shrewsbury on July 13th, with ringing during the afternoon at St. Mary's (10) and in the evening at St. Chad's (12).

The service at St. Mary's was conducted by the Vicar, Preb. E. E. F. Walters, who joined us afterwards for tea in the Church Hall, but unfortunately was unable to remain for the business meeting. Tea was served by the Shrewsbury lady ringers and ringers' wives.

At the business meeting the Ringing Master, Mr. P. J. Evans, expressed disappointment at the poor attendance, only 33 sitting down to tea, and especially at the small number of resident members present. The treasurer, Mr. M. J. Orman, presented his report, which showed a loss of £18, and the statement was adopted.

The following officers were elected: Ringing Master, Mr. P. J. Evans; Deputy Ringing Master, Mr. R. E. Morris; secretary, Mr. E. F. Willcox; treasurer, Mr. M. J. A. Orman; trustees, Messrs. F. G. Beddow and A. E. G. Owen; auditor, Mr. F. C. A. Bennett; Central Council representative, Mr. E. F. Willcox.

A motion was carried to raise the annual subscription for resident members from 3s. to 4s., and the fee for non-resident life members from 5s. to 10s. The meeting also decided to send a donation of £1 10s. to "The Ringing World."

Mr. F. C. A. Bennett, who took the chair, closed the meeting by thanking all concerned for the arrangements. P. J. E.

TWO BRANCHES MEET FOR HARDY FESTIVAL

Appropriately, a joint meeting of the Dorchester and Wimborne Branches was held at Dorchester on July 13th, during the period of the Thomas Hardy Festival. The Guild service in St. Peter's Church was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. K. W. Meiklejohn, with Mr. Harvey Easton as organist. Mr. Richard Duke, captain of St. Peter's ringers, read the lessons.

Tea was provided for 44 ringers. Canon E. B. Brooks, Branch vice-chairman, presided at the brief business meeting and welcomed ringers from the two Branches and visitors from North and West Dorset. Nine ringers from Bradford Peverell and two from St. Peter's, Dorchester, were elected members of the Salisbury Guild.

Ringling took place at St. Peter's Church and at Fordington St. George under the direction of the Branch Ringing Master, Mr. E. H. Akey, and Deputy Ringing Master, Mr. B. Kear.

Towers represented were St. John's, Bournemouth, Bradford Peverell, Canford, Cattistock, Charminster, St. Peter's, Dorchester, Evershot, Fordington St. George, Milborne St. Andrew, Morden, Poole, Preston, Ringwood, Swanage, Wareham, Wyke Regis and Yetminster.

AFTERTHOUGHTS ON BELLS AND BELLRINGING

BY THE LATE PETER LAFLIN

Not a catalogue of peals. Nothing in strict chronological order. A reminiscence here and there. Having reached an age when most of my ringing experience must be behind me, an attempt to size up what it has all amounted to in my case.

P. Laflin, 1965.

1. Personal foreword.
2. Learners and learning.
3. Ringers and conductors.
4. Bells.

1.—FOREWORD

This following conglomeration of thoughts on the differing aspects connected with bells and bellringing in general is not put forward with the idea that any of them should be regarded as the only way of looking at the subject, but is roughly as it has occurred to me to see them.

Born in Stoke-by-Nayland, Suffolk, and leaving this village for Debenham at the age of six, when my father changed his job, I cannot truly say that I remember the six bells at Stoke. Yet when later on at Debenham, upon hearing the back six bells there being rung, I can clearly remember exclaiming "Stoke bells!" And this must mark my first real acquaintance with them or any other bells.

However, at 13 years I gradually became aware of the regular practice on Monday nights at Debenham, and the ringing which always welcomed our procession from Sunday School to church on Sunday mornings. At this time I had been in the choir for a few years and had ample opportunities to see the ringers at work, the ringing being done from the ground floor.

Briefly then, at 13, and having left day school (this was in 1903), I frequently talked with William J. Groom, who was at that time the Vicar's gardener and lived quite close to our home. William had noticed that I was often "hanging round" the tower door on practice nights, and quite suddenly, in the abrupt Suffolk way, asked me if I wanted to learn to ring. This was my entry into a field of mental and physical enjoyment that has been my chief hobby and relaxation up to the present time. Bill Groom soon taught me to pull a bell, and with the help of others in a short time I was initiated into the mysteries.

William C. Rumsey, William Grimes, Alfred W. Grimes, George Rowe (senior and junior), George Rumsey, James G. Rumsey, William Ruffles, Percival Woods were all members of the Debenham band at that time. William Groom, W. C. Rumsey and W. Grimes taking turns at conducting and teaching. There were a number of learners, including Harry Perry, Bertie C. Ellis and myself. The above names, in addition to the Wightman family from Cretingham, made up an area band of ringers who became quite notable for their performances, at least locally, and such as myself were worked into the scheme as capabilities and opportunity allowed.

I should not omit the name of John Brady, a blind man, who nevertheless took part in 11 peals despite never having seen a bell rope; his splendid hearing made him a first-class striker and, I might add, critic; his ear was infallible.

Having given this short history to account for my commencement, I now hope to present some of the impressions gained over a long period of years on different aspects of bells and bellringing as they have appeared to me.

THE LATE PETER LAFLIN

2.—LEARNERS AND LEARNING

This depends to a great extent upon the teachers, although some learners, not many, seem to need little prompting once they have mastered the preliminaries of rope handling and proper control of the bell. These usually turn out to be the enthusiasts. Others, by far the greater number, need to be coaxed along, as it were, and more gently treated until confidence is gained. Some soon leave the scene, either unnerved by a too abrupt teacher or more likely because they discover that what they thought was going to be easy turns out to be more difficult than suspected, and therefore not for them. This class of learner, however, was more often than not persuaded to come forward without himself or herself having any particular liking for bells, and came forward more for curiosity than any real desire to learn.

A few are quite enthusiastic over the excitement of rope handling, being allowed to raise and cease a bell, and even to round ringing; but when called upon to get down to pencil and paper to learn how the bells work together are liable to lose interest. It is only a very patient and persuasive teacher who can pull such a one over this stumbling block until sufficient progress has been made to capture the learner's real interest. It is safe to say that at this point many have been lost to the Exercise.

For those who remain, if the band itself is progressive, an interest unfolds that will keep the learner going until the main difficulties of ropesight and of hearing one's own bell amongst the others is overcome; plain hunting is mastered, dodging and making places is recognised. By that time, other things such as work and good health permitting, the learner will become a useful ringer.

In rope handling, some use the left hand above the right and some the right above the left, the former being called a left-handed but I have not heard this spoken of ringer, the latter a right-handed ringer; to any extent of late years. It makes no difference anyway and is best left to the learner, as either way may be natural to him. I have noticed, however, that most learners are put to the right-handed way, and so in teaching some scores of youngsters to handle a rope I have done that unless the learner seems to have a feeling for the other or left-handed way. Being able to ring a bell myself either with left or right hand at the top, I have found no difficulty in adjusting my teaching to the learner's preference; in ringing myself I generally adopt the left-handed way as it was always my preference. The main thing to insist on is that the learner shall "keep a tight rope," that is, not necessarily pull too hard but to take the rope right down from the backstroke and to let the rope draw the hands up from the sally pull. Ringing with a slack rope floors more youngsters in the early stages than anything else.

As it is not my intention to write a treatise on bell handling I will now leave this subject, although it might come up again in discussing other aspects of the craft. Today, 1965, and for a few years now, there has been a College of Campanology, various courses have been run, all of which cover the subject of ringing from rope handling to composition. This is done in such a thorough manner that those who attend them can hardly fail to become expert from the learning stage onwards.

THE TREBLE BOB PRINCIPLE

By D. C. JACKSON

VARIOUS inquiries have recently been made in the columns of "The Ringing World" concerning methods on the Treble Bob principle. Amongst other things, these comments indicate that it is not widely realised that Minor methods in which the treble follows a path which we call Treble Bob hunt are officially classified into four groups. These are:

- (1) Treble Bob.
- (2) Thirds Place Delight.
- (3) Fourths Place Delight.
- (4) Surprise.

There is no justifiable reason for listing these four groups in any order of complexity, nor is there any special credit in ringing one group, e.g. Surprise, in preference to another, e.g. Treble Bob. Indeed certain methods in the Surprise group are much easier to ring than those in the other groups. The only difference between these groups lies in the fourth and eighth figures of the place notation.

e.g. Mendip Treble Bob:

36: x. 34. 16. x. 12. x. 16. x. 14. x. 56. 2nda.

All T.B. methods have identical places here.

London Thirds Place Delight:

x. 34. x. 16. x. 12. x. 36. x. 12. x. 36. 2nds.

All 3rds P.D. methods have identical places here.

York Fourths Place Delight:

x. 36. x. 14. x. 12. x. 16. x. 12. x. 36. 6ths.

All 4ths P.D. methods have identical places here.

Cambridge Surprise:

x. 36. x. 14. x. 12. x. 36. x. 14. x. 56. 2nda.

All S methods have identical places here.

Thus there is little justification in our peal recorders annually listing Surprise peals in a category separate from other methods.

More specifically, Mr. Poole, in his letter ("Ringing World," 2,985, page 522), appears to have confused the place notation of the following:

Ely Thirds Place Delight:

x. 36. x. 16. x. 12. x. 36. x. 12. x. 36. 2nda.

Whatton-in-the-Vale Thirds Place Delight:

x. 36. x. 16. x. 12. x. 36. x. 12. x. 36. 2nda.

Letters to the Editor

RINGING AT EXPO SUSSEX '68

Dear Sir,—No doubt better scribes than I will be writing of the wonderful ringing exhibition at the recent Expo Sussex, and the success which crowned the hours of work and inspiration on the part of Mr. Elphick and his helpers.

May I add my personal praise to those concerned with the thankless task of organising the ringing at the Expo belfry? The programmed touches of the day, all performed in public and on unusual bells, must have been quite a headache to achieve without treading on anyone's corns. When these were completed, the tower was opened to the hordes of tower-grabbers and stay-benders, myself included, each of whom had travelled vast distances or had some other reason for preferential treatment. Growing impatience and the odd case of jumping the queue were dealt with by the gentlemen in charge with tact at a time when their reserves of energy must have been severely strained.

The pleasure given to me and to the youngsters present by a few minutes' ringing might be some small measure of reward to them.

ANON.

MISS BELLRINGER

Dear Sir,—I think that if anything is to be done about this matter—and I feel that most of the Exercise think so—then it ought to be done at Guild or Branch level by the towers within the Guild or Branch.

They could each select a girl whom they think should grace the pages of "The Ringing World" and send her photograph in clothing or swim-suit to the Editor. By publishing a different photograph each week most of the Exercise would be satisfied and the pages of our journal brightened considerably.—Yours sincerely,

GRAHAM COLBORNE.

P.S.—The Editor is wrong in his note (page 542) when he said someone had a grudge against Miss Sadowska. The letter was written purely in fun and not by myself, incidentally.—G.C.

RATHER MISERLY

Dear Sir,—I feel I must take up the cudgels against your correspondent, Mr. Hector C. Bird ("Ringing World," July 19th, 1968).

He apparently thinks that one shilling is too much to pay for this excellent weekly paper—and yet at the same time suggests that one penny per rope for peal ringers is a small amount (the price of half a pint, he says). What is his argument? I fully agree with him in regard to the peal fee—and in fact I would suggest that this is at least doubled, but to expect a paper such as "The Ringing World," with its wealth of news and its excellent cover pictures, to be sold at less than one shilling in these days of high printing costs, etc., etc., shows a lack of enthusiasm for the Exercise and, to my mind, a narrowness of outlook and a rather miserly attitude. Maybe my own enthusiasm for bellringing, inadapt as I am, unfortunately, tends to colour my views on such matters, so I guess I should apologise to Mr. Bird if I have criticised him unjustly.—Yours sincerely,

G. EDMANDS.

THE DOUBLES DECISIONS or APRIL DAY AND ALL THAT

Dear Sir,—You Central Council chaps at Worcester have made a proper mess of the rules about Doubles methods and variations for us ordinary ringers. It seems that the majority of members were blinded by the pseudo-science of the vociferous few, who have persuaded the Council to use, one might say, an enormous hammer to crack the tiniest of nuts. There is much sense in the decision to separate methods from variations in peal reports, but the loss of identity of some of the popular simple variations is unjustifiable and unwise. It hits at and discourages the average Doubles ringer who knows and cares nothing about spliced ringing but wants his April Day or Clifford's Pleasure and other glamorous names, and will have little effect on the handful of multi-Doubles whiz-kids who are clever enough to find their own loopholes in the rules.

We in Somerset like to ring variations such as April Day, and it is the height of pedantry to suggest that this variation is spliced Reverse St. Bartholomew and Plain Bob. I would have more sympathy for the argument that Reverse St. Bartholomew is but a special case of April Day (or vice versa) with three calls and one plain lead in each part of the extent. Reverse St. Bartholomew has now belatedly and conveniently received the accolade of acceptance and publication by the Central Council after many years of being despised as "undesirable," as readers of the preface to the "Collection of Doubles Methods" will know.

If we are to accept half-lead splicing, and if the privilege of antiquity suggested in your footnote to Mr. Cattermole's letter is correct, we must be logical and admit that all the Grandsire Doubles we now ring is spliced Grandsire and Reverse St. Bartholomew. After all, Grandsire Doubles can well manage with an alternative to its "modern" single, and by your reasoning there is more Reverse St. Bartholomew than Grandsire in four of our normal extents of Grandsire Doubles. I know that the motion approved by the Central Council dealt specifically with variations, but the question of half-lead splicing is an entirely separate issue. It is a pity that Mr. Blagrove did not do his homework on past Central Council Decisions before instead of after the Worcester meeting, but if he is correct in saying that splicing at the half-lead is an old Decision, and many will find this surprising, then it must apply to both methods and variations alike.

If it is ridiculous to interfere with our traditional Grandsire Doubles and other methods similarly affected, then it is equally ridiculous to spoil our pleasure by interfering with any of the simple variations. Think again, Central Council—and give us back our April Days.—Yours sincerely,

GEORGE W. MASSEY.

THE PEAL AT INVERNESS

Dear Sir,—It was my party that rang the peal at Inverness in 1962, referred to by your contributor "M. P." on page 574, but we have no wish to remain anonymous as we did not break the ladder leading to the tower roof. Perhaps M. P. would like to withdraw the veil from his own anonymity and either apologise for his hurtful accusation or state the grounds upon which it is based.—Yours faithfully,

R. G. LEALE.

CORRECTING WEIGHTS

Dear Sir,—Despite Mr. Amos's remarks (page 543), I should have thought that the weight of a bell can be assessed fairly closely from its diameter at the lip when taken in conjunction with its strike note.

It is a significant point that the two light tenors which Mr. Amos mentions as being 46 inches—Wootton and Claybrooke—have both been reduced in weight, and perhaps lowered in pitch also, by retuning, whereas his heavy example—St. Edmund's, Northampton—has not. Wootton and Claybrooke tenors are not the same note, as Mr. Amos states, but are almost a semitone apart (Wootton E flat/D and Claybrooke E flat/E). Wootton's tone is what one might expect from such a thin bell but the Claybrooke tenor, on the other hand, is a lovely bell and belongs to a lovely ring. (These opinions are not just mine.)

Regarding the weight of the Oakham tenor, surely this bell weighed 22 cwt. 3 qr. 8 lb. when originally cast with the others in 1911, but was increased to 24 cwt. 2 qr. 9 lb. at a subsequent recasting. (Gillett and Johnston's weights.)

Whilst writing may I also respectfully correct the Rev. J. G. M. Scott? Poughill (Devon) is not a Taylor ring (page 543 again); the tenor was added and the bells were tuned and rehung in a new frame and fittings by Gillett and Johnston in 1947.—Yours faithfully,

CHRISTOPHER DALTON.

PAYMENT FOR WEDDINGS

Dear Sir,—To my mind the fee paid for ringing at a wedding is a quite legitimate payment for a service given and not "sheer avarice" as suggested by Mr. G. Robinson ("Ringing World," page 562). Members of a band of ringers give up their leisure time, and in some cases their working hours, in order to give this service and should receive an appropriate fee.

It is my experience that most bands take (for the sake of argument) 5s. per head and put the remainder into their belfry fund; very often it is the only income. I have known individual ringers to protest that they do not wish to accept a fee, but there is nothing to stop them placing their fee into the church funds. This would please Mr. Robinson.

He goes on to say that there is no compulsion for anyone to ring at weddings. Isn't this exactly what captains of struggling bands up and down the country are up against? To have such a "law" such as he suggests would deprive them of the only incentive that they can offer to muster a full side and provide the best possible ringing.

Ringers who had intended to go somewhere else on a Saturday afternoon would not like to change their plans with absolutely no compensation. The ringing for a wedding might only take half an hour at the outside, but it can completely upset an afternoon.

If Mr. Robinson wants an axe to grind, let him start on the standard of ringing for weddings, as in a lot of cases the duration and standard leave a lot to be desired when considering the fee paid.—Yours sincerely,

DAVID M. HUGHES.

RINGING FOR WEDDINGS

Dear Sir,—Mr. Robinson's letter regarding payment for weddings, published in your issue of July 19th, seems to me quite fallacious. If he is saying that ringers ought to be paid to ring for weddings but should then donate the proceeds to the church, this is purely a matter for the individual conscience, and Mr. Robinson is at liberty to do this if he wishes.

To imply that choir-men and organists all do this seems doubtful, to say the least. To suggest further that those who believe the labourer is worthy of his hire when employed by an individual to ring for his wedding (for an amount which in all too many cases has remained static for donkeys' years) will be unwilling to donate their ability when employed by the church to ring for services is unrealistic. Mr. Robinson seems to have met ringers who ring for money only. I know plenty of ringers but I don't know any like that.

As for the statement that because there is no compulsion upon anyone to ring for weddings therefore there is no valid argument in favour of his being paid, I hope my boss doesn't wake up to the fact that there is no compulsion upon me to work.—Yours faithfully,
M. M. LEWIS.

Farnborough, Hants.

Dear Sir,—I feel I must offer a reply to Mr. G. Robinson's letter ("Ringing World," page 562), headed "Payment for Weddings."

Mr. Robinson obviously comes from a tower with plenty of ringers, many of whom have nothing to do on Saturdays.

Our own tower has been struggling to remain in existence for three years. Often I have to ask ringers from neighbouring towers to help out. They have to come several miles either by car or by public transport and the small amount they receive helps to pay for this transport. Our ringers receive 10s., 7s. 6d. of which they keep, the remainder goes to tower funds.

Our own young band very often have other things to do on Saturdays, although they all enjoy ringing. The sum of 7s. 6d. helps to persuade them to give up an hour or so to come and ring.

I believe, therefore, that payment for weddings is essential. Incidentally, if Mr. Robinson does know any ringers who ring "just for the money," perhaps he should drop a casual hint and tell them they will not get rich very quickly.—Yours sincerely,

PETER J. PRIVETT.

Horsell, Woking.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD
Chertsey District

Poor weather probably contributed to the low attendance at the Chertsey District meeting held at East Molesey on July 13th. However, ringing in the afternoon ranged from rounds to Cambridge Minor under the direction of the District Ringing Master, Mr. D. Parsons. The Guild form of service (with the congregation in the choir stalls) was taken by the Vicar of West Molesey, the Rev. John Yeend.

A sumptuous tea, provided by the local Parish Council, preceded the short business meeting held in the Church Hall. It was decided to circulate a questionnaire to find out about the number of learners in the District, with a view to making Guild meetings more acceptable to them. Ringing continued until 8.30 p.m.

UP AND COMING YOUNGSTERS — No. 39

JOHN INESON
(Yorkshire Association)

John Ineson is a choirboy at Dewsbury and, in response to the Central Council recruiting leaflet displayed in the vestry, he presented himself in the belfry and adjusted his age slightly to the recruiting sergeant. He was in fact just gone nine years of age as against his "nearly ten." Progress in the early stages was naturally rather slow because of John's extreme youth (even though the tenor is only 13 cwt., the lightest bell is nearly five cwt.), but thoroughness has produced a good handler, good enough to demonstrate to many who have been taught to handle subsequently.

John rang his first 720 before his tenth birthday and became one of the youngest to qualify for the Yorkshire Association. Since then he has made rapid strides in method ringing and is now ringing Cambridge Major. His first peal was on Easter Day this year, when he rang the treble to Double Norwich, and this was followed two days later by Plain Bob Major on an "inside" bell. He had no blisters, evidence of hands being put to good and proper use. More recently, but still before his 11th birthday, John scored a peal of Stedman Triples at the first attempt. This was at Cleckheaton, where he has attended, week after week, and given very effective assistance to senior Dewsbury ringers teaching a new band. On several occasions he has rung solidly through the whole hour and a half practice when needed. This calls for a great deal of mental and physical stamina from one so young.

The keenness and dedication of this youngster is a fine example to his elders. On Christmas Eve his duties involved his being in church over ten hours. He has a remarkable record of attendance and punctuality, and his enthusiasm has spread through his family—his father and younger brother have become ringers.

BATH & WELLS ASSOCIATION
Frome Branch

It was a pity that relatively few members attended the summer meeting of the Frome Branch on July 13th at the Rev. A. G. Durston's tower, at Hemington. Ted Chivers was again muttering that we ought to consider cancelling this summer meeting, and he may well be right. The Rev. and Mrs. Durston and Jennifer and helpers provided a very nice tea for double the attendance and then, to embarrass us further, refused to accept anything towards the cost. We are all extremely grateful to them for their kindness.

The church service was most interesting. Providing a sort of one-man band, the Rev. A. G. Durston conducted the service, played the organ and sang with the rest of us.

Members rang methods they were capable of, like London, and some they were not capable of, which are called New Bob Doubles. These come in several variations, some of which come round and some which do not. To put the record right once and for all, when the Ringing Master says the 5th comes down first, he means the 5th comes down first later on to the front before the 4th. He does not mean the 5th comes down first straight away before the 4th. This simple explanation should help members!

LEYTONSTONE, E.—On June 24th, 1,260 Grand-sire Triples: Miss S. Porter (first quarter) 1, D. Wright 2, G. Walker (first Triples) 3, C. Hughes 4, A. White 5, K. Warner 6, D. Ellison (cond.) 7, F. Akers 8, For Patronal Festival service.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD
Witney and Woodstock Branch Outing

The Branch outing on July 13th was to Northants. The first tower was at Wootton, where the five bells were put to good use for 45 minutes. After the pleasing six at Dallington came St. Peter's, Northampton, where the eight bells were all cast in 1739 by the same founder. A peal board of 1897 had the unusual footnote that it was the first peal on the bells for 157 years!

After lunch a variety of methods was rung at Long Buckby and the party were intrigued by Weedon Bec Church, which is set between a viaduct and an aqueduct. Stedman Triples and Plain Bob Major were successfully rung on these good bells.

Tea at Towcester, and then Pattishall, where the Vicar gave the party a warm welcome and entertained with a recital on the exceptionally fine organ. The day's ringing ended at Towcester, where Cambridge Surprise did eventually come round, but despite this the ringing was enjoyed. The usual social evening was at Brackley.

Grateful thanks go to the driver, Alan Cornish, who rang at the towers visited and was a great help, especially at eight-bell towers. Thanks also to incumbents and tower captains.

A CORNER FROM WALES

SWANSEA AND BRECON GUILD A.G.M.

THE holding of the annual festival at Knighton on July 6th was really a missionary enterprise and was successful in persuading the ringers at St. Edward's Church to join the Guild. Ringing also took place at Presteigne.

The Vicar (the Rev. I. R. Luther Thomas) conducted the service and preached, and the Archdeacon of Brecon (the Ven. D. G. Wilkinson) read the lesson. Over 60 sat down to tea in the Church Hall, served by the Mothers' Union.

The Archdeacon presided at the meeting and gave a special welcome to the many young people present. He apologised for the absence of the Bishop. The meeting stood in silence to the memory of Messrs. Jack Bloxham, John Vaughan and W. Davies, who had died since the last meeting.

The Archdeacon then presented the shield and certificates won in this year's competition: Main—1 Cadoxton, 2 Newton Nottage, 3 Sketty; Supplementary Class—Glasbury.

The accounts were presented by Mr. Stan Edwards, who proposed that a further £40 from the Bell Restoration Fund be invested in Defence Bonds. This was carried, an amendment by Mr. Trevor Roderick, that it remain on deposit where it would bring in more interest, being defeated. The peal performance for the year was poor, only seven being recorded.

A NEW MASTER

Mr. Don Leach was the only nominee for the office of Master and was elected. Re-elections were: Hon. secretary, Mr. J. A. Hoare; treasurer, Mr. E. J. Morris; auditor, Mr. S. Edwards; Central Council representative, Mr. G. I. Lewis.

A notice of motion to review the working of the Guild and to draft a new constitution or set of rules to be presented to each District annual general meeting and then passed at the 1969 annual general meeting was proposed by Mr. J. Hodgetts and seconded by Miss C. Randall and was carried after dis-ussion. The committee to carry this out consists of the Master and hon. secretary, Miss Randall, Messrs. Hodgetts, Edwards, M. R. Thomas and Eric Smith. The committee was also asked to consider dates of District meetings which would enable young members to attend more easily.

The hon. secretary in his report regretted that membership was stationary; there were many towers not represented at the meeting and also without ringers, which was of major concern to the Guild. The report was adopted, and the Archdeacon, from the chair, proposed that appreciation of Mr. Hoare's services should be recorded in the minutes.

The invitation to hold the 1969 ringing competition at Talgarth was accepted and also that the 1969 annual general meeting be held at St. Mary's Swansea. Two new members from Brecon, one from Swansea and the band at Knighton were elected.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

The Monmouth Branch of the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association held a most enjoyable meeting at Grosmont on July 13th, and some 50 ringers gathered to try out this newly rehung ring of six bells.

The service was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. A. W. M'Adam, who told some interesting stories of various restorations done to the 13th century church throughout the ages. The Rev. Ivor J. Richards, Rural Dean of Raglan, read the lesson.

A high tea was served in what the people of this tiny village call their "town hall." Mrs. M'Adams and her helpers were sincerely thanked on behalf of the visitors by Mr. Reuben Clench.

The business meeting was held in the church and members were sorry to hear of the illness of Mr. Fred Hannington, who was in Cardiff Royal Infirmary. Mr. and Mrs. Alan Paton, of Mitcheldean, were elected new members, and mention was made of the next meeting, to be held at Matheron on October 12th. The six bells at Skenfrith were also available during the day.

everyone had fended for himself, but the evening meal was a different matter and an excellent dinner was served at Cambridge, making a satisfactory conclusion to a splendid day's outing.

No words can express our appreciation of the kindness shown to us by the Vicars of Wymondham, Winterton and Great Yarmouth or our gratitude to the local ringers. Thanks also to our organiser, Basil Hulatt, and our driver, whose co-operation was wonderful.

Bredgar's First Outing

July 13th was the first real opportunity Bredgar (Kent) ringers had to ring bells other than their own, so they set out at 10.30 a.m., determined to make a good job of ringing at some of the local towers. After visiting Bobbing and Milton Regis, in Sittingbourne, they went on to Minster in the Isle of Sheppey. A picnic lunch and some doubtful splashing in the sea followed and then on to Eastchurch to ring after the induction service of the new Vicar.

A superb tea, very generously provided by the Minster ringers, was attacked and duly demolished, after which ringing took place on the pretty little six at Queenborough, where with the help of Minster friends 120 each of Bob and Grandsire Doubles was managed. All were loath to leave the Queenborough bells, as these were the favourites of the day.

At Tunstall it was quickly realised the differences between ringing on six and eight. It was a tired but happy party that arrived home.

As yet, Bredgar has call change ringers; they would like to thank all those who enabled them to gain such valuable experience, especially the Vicars of churches visited, and also the mini-bus driver.

EAST GRINSTEAD AND DISTRICT GUILD

The July meeting of the Guild was held at Balcombe on the 13th. After ringing from 4 o'clock till 5.30 p.m. members had a picnic tea in their cars owing to the inclement weather. At 6.30 the service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. May, who gave an enlightening history of the church instead of an address.

The meeting was held in the church. The chairman announced that arrangements had been made for the meeting on August 10th to be at Rotherfield. The September meeting on the 14th will be at Hever and will be combined with a stoolball match between two teams from within the Guild. The trophy will be a pin of beer, the only stipulation being that it must be consumed on the field of play. If it should rain this will probably be replaced by a darts match in the Village Hall.

Names will be collected by Mr. C. A. Bassett for the outing on October 12th, starting next month.

Thanks were given to the incumbent for taking the service and for the use of the bells, and to Eric Knapp for making the arrangements. George Fry and Coral Spiller were congratulated on their engagement. R. J. E.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION Ashford District

The Ashford District meeting at Hythe on July 20th will rank as important in the annals of the Kent County Association, as a decision was taken to augment the Newchurch bells from five to six as the John Willis Memorial.

Ringings commenced at 3 p.m. and the service was conducted by the Vicar, Canon E. A. Newman. The fine organ was played by Miss Anne Barber, and Mr. R. A. Birch read the lesson. A splendid tea for the 80 people present, representing 22 towers, was arranged in the Parish Hall by the local ringers, and the business meeting was mainly devoted to the John Willis Memorial. A vote of thanks to the workers of the day was proposed by Mr. W. Bayne, of Mersham.

Ringings continued until 9 p.m. and ranged from rounds to Cambridge Surprise Major.

Loughborough Foundry Visited

Castor, Peterborough, bellringers, accompanied by visitors from Grinton, Thornhaugh and Wansford, left at 8.30 a.m. on July 16th for their annual summer outing, which was spent in the Loughborough district.

The first stop was at the bellfoundry, where we were shown around and told how bells were made and finished in their various stages. Ringing on the foundry campanile bells followed until lunch at the Three Nuns.

The afternoon programme started at Hathern, where rounds and call changes were rung by our young and inexperienced ringers. At Copt Oak (6), where ringing was enjoyed by all, and at Markfield several Minor methods were attempted, assisted by two ringers from the village. Non-ringers were entertained here on the village green by Morris dancers from Gloucester.

After tea we visited Desford, where the ropes unfortunately were much too low. Kirkby Mallory and Peckleton, thanks to the invitation of the Kirkby tower captain, completed the evening ringing.

To tower captains and incumbents we extend our sincere thanks; also to the organisers and Mr. Hill, the coach driver. F. O.

NEWINGTON-NEXT-HYTHE, KENT. — On July 1st, 1,320 Bob Doubles: Mary Munt 1, P. C. Sinden 2, Pamela A. Court 3, R. A. Birch 4, K. Butler (cond.) 5.

OUTINGS

Luton Ringers Visit Norfolk

For their annual outing on July 6th the Luton Parish Church ringers, with a number of old and valued friends, visited Yarmouth.

The long journey outwards was broken at Wymondham, but even this was a long hop (about 85 miles), and one found oneself wondering how long such a trip would have taken a century ago!

Readers of Charles Dickens will recall the return from London to Dotheboys Hall of Mr. Wackford Squeers and how he found it necessary to get out at every coaching inn to "stretch his legs," an exercise he was prone to take in the public bar, and how the colour of his nose spoke of the great benefit he derived!

However, in our luxurious modern coach the miles were eaten up as if by magic, and here we were at the beautiful old Abbey Church of Wymondham almost before we realised we had left home. Mr. Tooke conducted us to the belfry and soon the bells were going nicely to Bristol Surprise Major and Stedman Caters.

Another 30 miles and we were at Yarmouth, where most of the party were able to spend several hours on the beach, whilst others made the short trip to Winterton to sample the six bells at that isolated seaside place. Other joys were to follow, for Yarmouth has many attractions which the average visitor never sees, and we found 12 of them in the tower of the stately Parish Church of St. Nicholas.

Here Mr. Newstead made us very welcome and the bells were a real joy to ring, but perhaps Bristol on the back eight sounded best. For the matter of refreshment, during the day

CORRECTIONS & AMENDMENTS

The ringer of the 4th in the peal at Alton, Staffs, on June 29th, was Rowan S. Bradley and not Richard S. Bradley, as inadvertently submitted.

The composition of Stedman Caters on page 576 contains a misprint. The single at 16 in the middle of the ten-course block A should be two bobs.—Richard Ingils.

Mr. P. Amos complains that a misprint appeared in his article on the weights of tenors. That of Exton tenor should be 15 cwt. 2 qr. 20 lb., the weight passed on to him by Messrs. Taylors after they had rehung the bells.

Will correspondents please note that April Day is not a variation but is Spliced Plain Bob and Reverse St. Bartholomew. Similarly, both Clifford's Pleasure and Northrepps are Reverse Canterbury and Reverse St. Bartholomew.—F. T. B.

The Dean of Chester's article on bellhouses (July 19th): The Cathedral Church of St. Edmundsbury is St. James' and not St. Mary's, which is a parish church. There was originally a third church, St. Margaret's, within the Abbey precincts but of this nothing remains.—C. W. Hancock.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Found in the "Wren's Nest," a peacock blue chiffon scarf.

"Ringing in U.S.A. is definitely there to stay and is getting stronger day by day." — Frank C. Price's impression after his last tour.

William Butler, of 26, Barfield Road, Thatcham, Berks, will be pleased to hear from any other Williams who are interested in a name peal.

The two sons of the Rev. H. G. Mitchell, Rector of Fulbeck, Lincs.—Stephen (15) and Martin (18)—rang their first peal at Fulbeck Parish Church on June 29th. The conductor was Mr. James H. Musson, who had the pleasure of shepherding another first-pealer—William King—on a very enjoyable occasion.

Some 23 teams are expected to take part in the third annual rally of the Handbell Ringers of Great Britain at Ecclesfield Comprehensive School, near Sheffield. A committee meeting is to be held at 1.45 p.m., when it is hoped that one representative from each registered team will be present.

A legacy has been left to St. Cuthbert's C. of E. Church, Prospect, South Australia, for a ring of bells. Inquiries are being made in England.

Mr. Tom Goodyer, after his very successful peal (our with "Wratten's Wringers," has been spending a week with Mr. G. W. Pipe at Ipswich.

Would any Geoffreys interested in ringing an all-Geoffreys peal of Surprise Royal please contact Geoffrey R. Drew, Monsal, Bredon, Tewkesbury, Glos. Information re preferences of method, place and time would be helpful.

Irate reader: "Surely you are paid to print peals, and not your opinions," after the Editor had altered a footnote. We are informed by the Records Committee that official "longest lengths" do not start until 6.720 changes.

Mr. Jim Hedgcock writes pointing out that the peal of 5,184 Plain Bob Minimus rung at Alkham, Kent (page 568) was the record length of Minimus yet rung to a peal. Will the peal secretary of the Kent County Association please note for record purposes.

RECORD LENGTH OF MAXIMUS "IN HAND"

The greatest number of changes to a peal on 12 handbells was rung at Marple, Cheshire, on July 6th, when 13,140 Kent Treble Bob Maximus (Cam variation) was rung in 7 hours and 32 minutes. The peal was arranged and conducted by Brian J. Woodruffe.

136 DOUBLES PEAL WELCOME

A new record in Doubles methods for the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild was established by Mr. Derek C. Jackson at Binstead on July 13th, when 136 variations were rung. The occasion was to welcome the Rev. C. Edwards to the parish. The new incumbent listened to the last 1½ hours of the peal from his garden and finally entered the belfry when "Stand" had been called to find out what ringers were like after such a feat of endurance." Meanwhile Mrs. Edwards had prepared a truly magnificent feast for the band in the Vicarage and they cannot thank her enough for such splendid hospitality.

It had originally been planned to achieve 150 variations. Mr. Jackson, however, writes explaining how his hopes had been thwarted by Amendment 3 of the motion passed by the Central Council, which he states "indicates that we must now ring all 16 of the Grand-sire-Antelope-Norwich variations in full, and that eight extents are no longer acceptable."

It was on May 1st that Mr. Edwards, of Testwood Parish, was inducted to Binstead. Then six members of Totton Grammar School Ringing Society, together with over 100 members of the congregation, travelled to Binstead for the service. Unfortunately an attempted quarter of May Day Doubles came to grief in the tenth extent, and the peal on July 13th was one of welcome.

ASHFORD GIRLS' HIGH SCHOOL

On July 6th the 23 cwt. eight at Ashford, Kent, were rung for the Founder's Day service of the Ashford High School for Girls by a band consisting of seven pupils of the school and one staff member. This was the first time for several years that a band from the school had rung for this service. The ringing had been organised by the staff member, Mrs. Jennifer Manger. The girls normally ring for Sunday services at various churches in and around Ashford.

PROGRESS AT BURGESS HILL

It was a red letter day for the band at St. John the Evangelist's, Burgess Hill, on July 14th when they rang a quarter peal for the dedication of the new daughter church of St. Edward by the Bishop of Chichester.

Ringing was by the regular Sunday service band with the exception of the conductor, Mr. Ken Knight, a former member, who now lives at Chichester. Three members rang their first quarter and one of them, Miss A. Lloyd, came in at the last minute and proved to be very efficient on the treble.

This was the first quarter peal on the bells for about three and a half years and says much for the hard work of the captain, Mr. D. Anderson, who has now plenty of learners. Thanks are also due to Mr. Ken Knight for his help on this and other occasions.

The bells are now out of action until about Christmas as they are being overhauled and rehung by Messrs. John Taylor and Co., who installed them in 1904.

NEW GUILD SECRETARIES—No. 3

At this year's annual general meeting of the Sussex County Association Mr. Alan R. Baldock, of Westham, Pevensey, was elected general secretary in succession to Mr. R. H. Percy, who had held the post for 15 years.

A Sussex man, Mr. Baldock was born at Eastbourne in 1943 and from an early age has been connected with St. Mary's Church, having joined the choir in 1952. He was taught to handle a bell there by his eldest brother, Leslie, and the basic principles of change ringing were expounded to him by Mr. Harold Reynolds, the present captain of St. Mary's band.

Alan's first peal was Cambridge Major, to which he rang the treble at Steyning in 1961. It was conducted by Mr. Derek Sibson, the present secretary of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths. Alan joined the Society in 1962, and his present peal total is 84, of which he has conducted 39.

In 1961 Mr. Roy Fuller restarted the band at Westham and it was through attending their practices that Alan met his future wife, Mr. Fuller's daughter Christine, and eventually married her in 1965. In 1966 the Fullers moved to Swanage, Dorset, and the choice of captain at Westham fell on Alan. Christine and Alan have now a baby daughter, Rachel, who was born in May this year.

Among the offices Alan has held is Ringing Master of the Eastern Division of the Sussex County Association, to which he was appointed in 1963. He has now graduated to the hon. general secretaryship, and the best wishes of many friends accompany him as he tackles the varied problems facing this big Association.

DETAILS WANTED

Dear Sir,—Perhaps one of the members of the Records Committee would care to explain how they came to accept the peal of 12,480 Pudsey S. Major rung at Loughborough on November 11th, 1967, conducted by R. J. Parker. No notice was given of this peal and the composition has not subsequently been published.—Yours faithfully, Wheathampstead, BRIAN J. WOODRUFFE.

THE AUSTRALIAN AND NEW ZEALAND ASSOCIATION A.G.M.

There was a big muster for the annual general meeting held at Adelaide starting on Saturday, June 8th. Upon arrival at St. Peter's Cathedral all were presented with little bell-name tags and beautifully printed programmes.

Ringing continued at the Cathedral until lunch time and in the afternoon at the City Hall and St. Andrew's, Walkerville. The City Hall has lost its personality. The "cage" wall has been removed, as have all the shelves round the sides. There is not much improvement in the bells.

At 5.30 p.m. the members assembled at the Mayoral Parlour at Walkerville, where Paul Evans' father, who is this year's Mayor, held a reception. An hour later the convoy of cars departed for the Marian Hotel, Mitchell Park, where a formal dinner was held.

On Sunday the bells of the Cathedral and Walkerville were manned for the service meeting, which started at 11.15 a.m. and was adjourned at 1.30 for a substantial lunch laid on by Mary Devonshire and the other South Australian girls and ringers' wives. Proceedings eventually finished at 3 p.m. with Jack Roper still president, R. Jolly secretary and Ken Minchinton treasurer. Tony Mann has the job of peal recorder and Ralph Clarke is "Ringing Times" editor.

Quarter peals were gained and lost at Walkerville and St. Peter's prior to evening service. Then all crowded into Richard Jolly's lounge for the evening. On the Monday eight strong men and true managed to score a quarter of Bob Major at the City Hall. Then up to the National Park for an excellent barbecue, which has become a tradition of A.N.Z.A.B. gatherings. J.M.

A SOMERSET WEDDING

Miss Susan Griffin was married by her father, the Rev. W. G. Griffin, at Angersleigh, Somerset, on July 20th, to Mr. Richard T. Smith, who formerly rang at All Saints', Newport. The five bells at Angersleigh were rung merrily for this happy occasion, the ringers including the Bainham family from Newport.

It was the first meeting for four years of the bridegroom with John Cornelius and Chris Bainham; the last time they met was when they were on tour with the University of Wales Society in 1964.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION

The meeting of the St. Albans District on July 20th was held at St. Michael's (8) in the afternoon and the Abbey (12) in the evening. At the business meeting after tea in the Abbey Institute Mr. Bert Johnson took the chair.

Everyone was reminded of the barbecue to be held at St. Michael's on September 7th (tickets 5s. each). The next District meeting will be at Kimpton on August 17th. A new scheme will be in operation then; due to the number of people sitting around at six-bell meetings, six-bell quarter peals are going to be tried the same afternoon. So for the first six to arrive at Kimpton there will probably be another tower arranged with a view to getting someone through something new during the afternoon.

The final figure raised by the Wheathampstead sponsored walk in aid of their bell fund was £132.

A vote of thanks went to the Abbey girls for the excellent tea, the Vicar of St. Michael's for the service, Bob Hardy for playing the organ, and the Dean for the evening ringing.

THE LADIES' GUILD

Further ringing took place at various towers until 6 p.m., when some 70 members and friends assembled at Mayflower Place, Hertingfordbury, for dinner. Mrs. E. Parfrey presided and Mr. David King acted as toastmaster.

The toast of "The Church" was proposed by Mrs. Jacqueline King with that poetry of voice and language which seems to come more naturally to the Welsh than to the rest of us, and the response by the Rev. A. Bradley held everyone's interest as he described the origin of ringing. This differed considerably from the usual version given in textbooks, but was much more humorous (and, as belittled the occasion, gave far more credit than is usually attributed to the female sex).

The toast of "The Ladies' Guild" was proposed by Mr. R. Hardy, who in the course of a light-hearted speech said that he was not going to give the ladies a pat on the back, although he was probably expected to, because the fact that the Guild had existed for 50 years and had met in strength there that evening was a greater tribute than he could pay.

When the newly-elected president rose to reply she was greeted with an ovation which was not only a personal tribute but also an expression of everyone's sympathy. During the day some of us had heard that her husband had known before he died that her name had been submitted by several Districts for the office of president, and how proud of her and the family he would have been for the gallant and courageous way they had carried everyone with them throughout the day.

Mrs. Parfrey said how much the Ladies' Guild meant to her personally, and the opportunities it gave members to meet each other as the venue for the annual general meeting moved around the country—last year at Lincoln, this year at St. Albans, next year Manchester. She also paid tribute to the older members, several of whom had been present during the day, and two of whom, Mrs. E. Mitchell and Mrs. A. Richardson, were at the dinner. Mrs. Parfrey then thanked those who had done so much to make the day a success—the Rev. A. Bradley for the service and his speech that evening, Miss Ware, who had arranged the dinner, Mrs. Darvill and her helpers for the lunch, and the Central District secretary, Mrs. J. Hooton, for all the arrangements for the meeting and the ringing.

Miss Valerie Ware welcomed the visitors, especially the Rev. and Mrs. A. Bradley. She also had a special word for the "supporters," who, in the Central District anyway, not only rang the heavier bells at meetings but also did the washing-up while the ladies held their business meeting.

Mr. J. Bramley, who replied to the toast, cast an anxious eye in the direction of the kitchen lest the supporters were expected to wash-up that evening.

The room was then cleared and dancing continued until a late hour, with a short interval, when two of the "supporters" gave a most delightful and entertaining puppet show.

DOINGS IN DEVON

Comments have been going around at Devon competitions which make it seem that this series is proving useful, so we hope that it may be able to continue. One feature of the competitions in July was the appearance of a method-ringing band all the way from Seend, Wiltshire, at the Down St. Mary Shield competition. It sounds as though they found that call change ringing was not quite as easy as it looks, but they made history and we hope that their example may be followed in the future. Swymbridge won the shield with 22 faults, followed by Cheriton Fitzpaine (not recently among the leaders) with 35, and a band from Black Torrington makes us hopeful that ringing may be picking up there, too. Down St. Mary entered a band containing four of their girl ringers.

August will give visitors two competitions in perfect surroundings for an afternoon in the county. On August 3rd the Bill Miners Cup will be competed for at Widgecombe-in-the-Moor—it was given by Bill, not in memory of him; he wanted a Bill Miners cup and, being Bill, he was not going to miss any of the fun so he gave it in plenty of time to see and hear it rung, we hope, for many years to come. On the 24th is the Meavy Cup competition, and if you have been to Devon and have not been to Meavy you have missed one of the most delightful things in the county. The oak on the village green is one of the oldest trees in the kingdom—and looks old enough for Noah to have sat under. The church is a gem, the Royal Oak is a real old country pub and there is a first-rate six to listen to.

A lot of nonsense still seems to be talked about relations between call change and method ringers. One story we heard last month may help to scotch it. The Emmanuel, Plymouth, band had three weddings in one day to ring for and could not man the tower for all of them. Plymstock, the current six-bell champions of the call change world, heard of their predicament and came in to help them out. Call change ringers welcome any ringers in their towers; the only things they do not like are bad striking and being regarded as backward yokels. J. G. M. S.

OBITUARY

MRS. MAY W. TEAGUE

The death took place in her home in Woodston, Hunts, on July 14th, of Mrs. May Teague, aged 85 years. Formerly Mrs. Datson, it is by this name that Mrs. Teague will be remembered by a number of Woodston's early lady ringers who have now moved to various other districts. Only recently did failing health bring an end to Mrs. Teague's services as bell-ringer and P.C.C. member, it being over 50 years since her ringing began.

The funeral was on July 17th, and on the previous evening a half-muffled quarter peal was rung after the body had been brought to lie in the church. J. M. R.

MR. ALBERT J. HUGHES

Mr. W. Cathall, hon. secretary of the North Wales Association, writes that he understood the funeral of Mr. Albert J. Hughes, of Bangor, was on June 29th. Mr. Hughes did most of his ringing in the Bradford and Birmingham areas and returned to North Wales after his retirement from the railway.

Mr. Cathall believes that Albert was a founder of the North Wales Association but of late he had not done much ringing on account of ill-health. His last peal was 5,056 Cambridge Surprise Major rung at Pulford, Cheshire, on June 23rd, 1951, for the North Wales Association.

A LONE PILGRIM'S PROGRESS IN AMERICA

MARCH 15th dawned a little cloudy, drear and cold as the Pilgrim set out on his trip. Having been duly delivered at the Victoria Air Terminal early in the morning and gone through the process of booking in, a small coffee party and a small briefing, he boarded at Heathrow a V.C. 10, together with 70 others from various firms (not connected with ringing), in a special small trade mission to the U.S.A. and Canada.

At that time, being a little nervous of air flight, there were some moments of trepidation until the aircraft had finally settled on its journey, which commenced at 11.20 a.m. It was soon obvious that a good time was to be had by all and things were to be done on a grand scale. After a sumptuous lunch followed by other fortifications, the Pilgrim began to feel that perhaps life wasn't so bad after all!

The plane landed at Boston, Mass, at 12.30 p.m. (What happened to the six hours?) in a temperature of 30 degrees after passing over the mouth of the still frozen St. Lawrence and the also frozen river at Boston. The pattern, however, was soon to change as within a few hours the temperature soared into the 60's.

MET BRITISH AMBASSADOR

After being transported to the hotel came a very short period for rest and cleaning up, followed by a somewhat longer briefing on American customs and business, together with the schedule for the next few days. The party was then whisked to the residence of the Consul-General to meet the British Ambassador and a reception with further fortification.

The first ringing connection came with the arrival of Geoffrey Davies, late of Birmingham and now of Brandeis University, who escorted T. P. to supper to meet the family and the first encounter with an American ringer in the shape of Joan Hutchinson. Having, however, nearly fallen asleep at 11.30 p.m. (it was, after all, 5.30 a.m. in England), it was a case of home to bed.

Saturday, after more briefings and business meetings, saw the visit to the first tower, at Hingham. The bells are a Mears ten (about 21 cwt.) hung in a slender brick campanile, and after seeing the bells, whilst no ringing took place, T.P. had his first taste of American hospitality, which was to be a pattern for the weeks to come. Here due to the vast and untiring efforts of David Gifford, Gene Gardner and others, an almost derelict ring had been made ringable and a keen band started with the assistance of Geoff and Doctor Tudor Morris from Swansea. The bells are by no means easy to ring but bad "go" was easily outweighed by the keen enthusiasm—a tower and band well worthy of assistance from any visiting ringers. At present there are also Nigel and Margaret Bearne from Kent, who are rendering yeoman service. In the evening came a "pizza" party, where it seemed that the whole village had turned up (was it really jam and pilchards?).

Sunday saw a visit to the tower at Perkins Institute, another Mears eight still obviously ringable, but not now rung due to local opposition and other reasons not printable.

RADIO BROADCAST

Monday saw the opening of an exhibition and the first business of the tour—this also was to set a pattern. During the lunch hour the two foundry representatives took part in a radio programme broadcast from the hotel dining room, at the invitation of a well-known local celebrity, where, between mouthfuls of steak and commercials, many questions were answered on bells and bellfounding. One or two political questions were popped in and answered according to their merits—e.g. "Who do you favour, Kennedy or McCarthy?" to be answered with . . . "I'm sorry, I don't know anything about baseball." (Crunch.)

Monday evening saw a visit to the famous (?) Durgin's Park Restaurant, where T.P. was

MR. W. A. THEOBALD

This was not the Pilgrim's first visit to America. In 1928 he left school and ran away to sea, and sailed in three ships of the Canadian Pacific Steamship Company during a period of 12 months.

He learned to ring at Portsmouth, and was working at Salisbury when the ban was lifted and took part in the ringing at St. Thomas' Church. In 1944 he became secretary, treasurer and Ringing Master of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, offices he held for little more than a year.

In 1947 he joined the staff of the Whitechapel Bell Foundry as a bellhanger and has worked on many famous bells. He has rung in 1,300 towers and scored about 350 peals (conducted about 75).

amazed to see a lady eating a "beef" chop, also to see the look on a colleague's face at the gargantuan size of the pork chops, and to hear the waitress comment "Wassa marrer wid jew?" to which was added further comment, on being told it was too much to eat, "Ja wanna doggie bag?"

The take-off for Atlanta, Georgia, was at night; how beautiful is the sight of a lighted city viewed from the air, most were like lighted jewels. Here again briefings, meetings, visits, exhibition and interviews with potential customers, followed by a literally "flying" visit to Charleston, South Carolina.

Here, due to an earthquake which had caused the tower to settle several inches, and a frame on stilts too high in the tower, ringing is impossible and the bells are "clocked" electrically. Seven wheels still remain but the tenor wheel had been removed to make way for a ladder to the spire above. These bells have had a chequered career: cast by the Whitechapel Foundry in 1764, they were brought back to England during the War of Independence and later returned and rehung locally. On removal again, during the Civil War, they were destroyed by fire and later recast again at Whitechapel in 1865.

WASHINGTON'S EXAMPLE

Next, on to Washington, where, there being no exhibition, Pilgrim was able to pay a visit to the Cathedral for some ringing on the Mears ten. Here again was an example of the limitless enthusiasm of the American ringers. To coin an Americanism "Boy! Are Rick, Jack and the girls good!" Good ringing, loads of enthusiasm, a well-controlled belfry and, above all, a high standard of ringing which could well set an example for some British towers. Ringing was half-muffled, and what a glorious sound.

Here also Pilgrim had his first example of the American ability to learn quickly, which was to show up again and again in other quarters. Quite obviously our American friends have a different mental approach to ringing and their concentration seems to be much greater. Here also to meet Rick's father, Wayne Dirksen, who Pilgrim had the pleasure of teaching to handle a bell while in England.

After a few days it was on to St. Louis, with temperatures soaring up into the 80's. No bells here as yet, or at Minneapolis, the next stop. At the latter came the contact by telephone with Daniel Robbins, the carillonneur at the Rockefeller Chapel at Chicago, followed by an invitation to visit the Mitchell tower.

CHICAGO PROSPECTS

As Pilgrim virtually had to fly over Chicago to reach Montreal, he took advantage of this and, having been met at the airport by an English ringer, was duly delivered at the tower to inspect the bells and meet the local ringers. Here is a Whitechapel ten in a steel frame, but, however, on a massive wooden bridge to carry the weight lower in a rather thin tower; ringing is difficult, the back bells never being rung. However, here again difficult conditions were countered by great enthusiasm and hospitality. These people would be grateful for any help by visiting ringers. Ringing, at least during semesters, is at Saturday lunch-time and any visitor is advised to contact Daniel Robbins, c/o Rockefeller Memorial Chapel, Chicago University, Chicago, Illinois; they will be assured of a great welcome. Pilgrim found them most cheerful and hospitable, and his stay all too brief, but including a look at the wonderful Gillett carillon and to hear the majestic back four rung electrically.

On to Montreal for the annual exhibition and business trips. Here attempts to contact ringing towers drew a blank. Montreal bells are now rung electrically, and Quebec towers at the moment are having a lean time. Pilgrim had been to Montreal some 30 years before but attempts to recognise old haunts drew a blank due to the great changes in the city. It was amusing to see the look on a coach driver's face during a sightseeing tour, when told during a talk on the bells of Notre Dame, Montreal, "You had better be right because we have a man from the firm that insured them aboard." Finally came the day to say farewell to the main party, who were returning to England whilst Pilgrim carried on to the chief object of his visit, to install the eight at Smith College, Northampton, Mass, already described in another article.

The first leg was to Boston, where Pilgrim was met by Joan Hutchinson and whisked into the city for a short stay before going on. Due to the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King things were a bit grim, but a quick enjoyable visit to Hingham was made, this time for a short ring. (To be continued)

METHOD EXTENSION 10

The naming of Kegworth Surprise Royal effectively prevented Leatherhead Surprise Major from extending through Royal to Maximus and Kegworth becomes a parent method in its own right.
